NOTES

Libya: The Libyan Army has been placed on alert for possible use in the Sudan. President Qaddafi has presumably offered the troops in accordance with an informal economic and military agreement among Libya, Sudan, and Egypt. If Libyan troops were sent, there would be repercussions at home. Large segments of the population and some members of the ruling Revolutionary Command Council are opposed to Libya's foreign commitments. Troops sent to Egypt early this year were called back as a result of pressure from these elements.
